“ 3 years, Ash.. time flies. I miss you so much and I can't believe today hasn't gotten any easier for any of us. That's how big of an impact you've had on us, pretty girl. This year it's my turn to celebrate my 21st, I really wish you were here to celebrate with me.. we would have had a blast. Can you imagine the two of us in an apartment together like we always talked about? Oh we'd have so much fun and get into so much trouble together.. I think about it all the time! Keep watch over your mom, dad and Ky for us, they need you more than ever. I love you and miss you more each day, Ash.

“ My darling, once again the tears still flow with out releif, I can only wonder what you are doing, but I am sure that it is something very special I cant wait to see some day. I pray Ash that when that day comes that you are the first and only one that I see first, I love and miss you so much ash that the pain is in-describable at times, the hole in my heart that has been there since you left just sits there without any healing, I try to figfure out and even justify in some way the reason you were taken from us and van find no reason why other than his wishes, but that doesnt make it any easier for us to understand and I probably never will understand unless it is coming straight from you. I love you darling and miss you so very very much, I often wonder and think about your influences on Ky, mommy and me, what you have instilled in each of us, it is said that there is a lesson to be learned in everything, I beleive that, I have learned so much from you and still continue to learn form you daily, I love you baby doll. If I sit and think about it I beleive that the single most important teaching that I got from you is patience in everything, and I do mean everything, it is challanged daily just by liveing, but because of you I can handle it. I truely do miss you my darling, I truely do miss you, I see the events that other people have witnessed or were even a apart of with traveling beyond to where you are and then to return with amazing stories of what it is like there, my only wish is to see it with you, even if it were only for a few mi8nutes or even seconds, I would love to be part of thatwith you, I dream about you and see you floting in this beautiful white and gold gown with your beautiful eyes and caring smile, saying nothing but just smileing, the happiness I get from that is un-measurable, when i look into the sky at night and see the moon and stars, i tear up and just thnk about you danceing among them, I would love to see you dance among them also, I am sure that it is an amazing site also. I love you and will forever miss you baby doll, love forever and ever honey. Daddy PS Please do not forget my wish honey, Its the only one that I have. Love Daddy

“ Ash, my baby doll, I miss you so very very very much honey, and yes the tears still flow like a broken water pipe that can never be fixed. I miss our talks, our hugs and everything else honey. Went to Canada with Allen and the family, it was ok, the little ones argue and fight as usual, I really don't know how to fix that one but I am sure time will help. I miss you so much Ash, I pray that you are ok and happy, I know you are, I can't feel it and I can hear you at times talking to me, I feel better when I can hear you, I know it's no fluke that I can do that. Alright my beautiful daughter, we miss you very very much. I love you as I will love you forever and ever my darling.. As many hugs and kisses as you can stand from me I give to you. Please do not forget my wish honey. Love Daddy

“ My beautiful daughter, another day another hour another minute without you here with us, that stinks and I hate every minute of it. “ Ashleigh my beautiful daughter, I am sorry I have not been able to write to you, things at work have been a little busy and just no free time for much of anything except work. I think of you every moment of every day and still the tears flow like an open spicket. Another christmas without you here, another day without your soft voice, kindness towards others and you, I miss you so much as does Ky and mommy, The holidays really are hard to get into anymore, maybe if you were still here it would be different. I miss you so much Ash, I still cant beleive it, it feels like a continuos nightmare that I wish I could wake up from and you would be standing there saying, hey daddy, Love you. I miss that so much ash, I miss you so very very much as does everyone that knows you. I am going to get the star lit for you tomorrow or maybe the next day but definitely before that nasty day that I totally hate, you know the day I mean. I have dreaded this day since I lost you, and everytime I think about it I just get so mad, furiuos that there was noting that I could do to protect you and keep you here with us, ME. “ Ash, I miss you so much honey, and as usual the tears just keep coming, I think about all the kids that are up there in the hospital right now and think that maybe I should grab mommy and go up and see these little ones with cookies and gifts, but I can't do it, I cannot go back up there right now baby doll. It seems that the days are getting longer now since its so close to the time that we lost you almost 2 years ago, I dread this time Ash, I absolutely hate it and hate it with a passion that just is not measurable and never will be either. Mommy and Ky are both the same way as you already know, we all hate it. Someone so caring and so unselfish to be taken from us just isnt fair Ash, you were meant to be here and not there, I hate this more than anything in this world or beyond, I miss you so much ash, words dont describe it. “ My beautiful daughter, once again the flood gates are open and the blurry vision is back, another holiday without you here with us, with me, I miss you so so so much ash, the days go by one after another and I can't find a way to understand WHY, WHY MY DAUGHTER?????? I never will either, Thanksgiving is here again and you're not, that sucks. I love you and miss you so very very much Ash as does Ky and mommy, The holidays are not fun for me anymore, they used to be when we were all together, now they are just dates on the calendar, Ky makes things better, thank you for your influence on her ash, she idolizes you so much, ash this and ash that, it's really cute and it helps some but you being here with us would be the best thing that could happen. Sorry just rambling with the blurry vision again. Happy Thanksgiving is all I have heard, it has a little meaning I suppose, but not like it used to, not like when you were here with us, with me. I love you daughter, I love you so very very much and cannot wait for that day to come, the one you and I talk about. Love forever and ever my beautiful daughter, my best friend. That day is the most special day of my life and I've cherished every single moment. I think of you everyday, in everything that I do. “ Bill, Traci & Kyleigh, In the month I spent taking care of Ashleigh and your family, I learned more about the fragility of life, the ability to find joy in times of pain, and the ties that turn friends into family than in three years of medical school. Ashleigh was one of God's special angels on earth. From the first day I took care of her, it was as if she peered into my soul, and gave me the strength and encouragement I needed. I cherished our relationship and the countless things she taught me. She truly has wisdom, maturity and grace well beyond her years. Wherever I go in this world, I take a piece of her, and all my 7h kids, with me. With love and gratitude for sharing her with me, Beverly Schaefer

“ To Traci,Bill and Kyleigh We have not known you all very long, that is in time as it goes. But the time we spent altogether wheather it just sitting in silence, talking, or holding each others hand trying to comfort each other. As we watch our GrandDaughter Tristyn or our baby Girl Ashleigh go through this auwful thing. The time was like an eternity that I would never change at all. The time we all spent made us all become friends and friends forever. You will all be in our hearts and thoughts always. As our dear Ashleigh will be. She was such a beautiful young lady. Life threw her such a curve ball that no one should have to endure, even one so young as her. I use to love to see her beautiful smile when I would come to visit Tristyn at the hospital. She was always so upbeat. Never complaining about herself always worrying about the other kids. I remember the first day we all met. I was so embarassed it was one of Tristyn's bad days , which as we all know she was entitled. Me her Grandma, me was not one of her favorite people that day and she used some not so nice language. Bill and Ashleigh were behind her curtains laughing so hard at what she said. That was our Tristyn never knew what would come out of her mouth sometimes. But when we went over to introduce ourselves to your husband and daughter. They said don't apologize. It was too funny. But yeah if we were going through what these kids were we would probably have bad days too. From that day on we all became friends. Tristyn and Ashleigh just hit it off so well. Like they were best friends forever. As did Skyler and Kyleigh the sisters that got left behind. We know that they are in a better place where they are both along with many others at peace and feel no more pain. Now when I look up to the sky I see a new star.It is Ashleigh's along side Tristyn's. The two Angels are flying high together and watching down on all of us . Until we meet again someday. “ I am sitting here after reading about your incredible daughter. The love she had for life is amazing. Her spirit for life never died. You must be so proud of her and I know your loss is very painful, but she is now free. I have been struggling for 3 years now with the loss of my Father and after reading how brave and courageous your daughter was it somehow helps me with my loss. “ Cancer is probably the worst way to lose someone who is a part of your soul. I have gone through this lose myself and know, that it does get better with time. Just know that now she is in a better place, filled with happiness, love, and no pain. Know that she is looking down on you from the heavens above, and with each snowflake, or raindrop, or even leaf that falls, know that this is her dancing with the angels, and spreading her love to you and to everyone else who she held so dear. Remember, she is never gone in spirit, bless you and your family

“ Bill, Traci, Kyleigh, Ashleigh.....To know you is to love you. You have always been the hugh bright shining star in all our lives. Your beautiful smile and I love you's warmed the hearts of all. Ashleigh, you will never be forgotten. I will celebrate you forever. I have many many wonderful memories of our times together. In August when I was in to see you at the hospital, you were visiting with all the children on your hospital floor, and playing with Kyleigh. I just stood back watching as everyone wanted your attention. After awhile, you were tired and you came over to me, with your I.V. pole and blanket trailing, and said, 'Grandma, can I lay down in your lap for a while?' I then had the pleasure of holding my girl for two hours. I can still feel you in my arms today. My Ashleigh, my darling sweet girl, years back, I would say something like, I am so sorry you are sick, and you would say, 'OH Grandma, its okay, there are a lot of other kids out there more sick than me.' Your amazing Mom and Dad have been your shining stars. And Kyleigh kept that sparkle in your eye too. Ashleigh, I will always be a part of Kyleigh's life because of you. It has been a privilege to be with you and your little sister for the past six months. My sweet Angel, I will love you always and miss you immensely.... Your loving Grandma Mary Jo

“ Dear Bill, Traci, and Kyleigh (and all your family) Ashleigh lived life here on earth with strength, love, and passion. She had a fighting spirit that was flamed by her love of family and friends, and God’s love for her. She was an example to all she met and certainly to the children, teenagers, and medical staff at Golisano Children’s Hospital. She lives on in our hearts. She lives on in the heavenly presence of her Savior and ours, Jesus Christ. She lives as Jesus promised and delivered through His own suffering, death, and resurrection. I can’t even imagine the depth of your pain, but I assure you God loves you and is with you in your sorrow. In John’s Gospel chapter 14:1-6, 27,29 we hear Jesus speak to His disciples about his own impending death with these words of love, “Let not your hearts be troubled, believe in God, believe also in me. In my Father’s house there are many rooms, if it were not so would I have told you that I go to prepare a place for you? And when I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again and take you to myself, that where I am you may be also.... I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father but by me. Peace I leave with you. My peace I give to you. Let not your hearts be troubled and neither let them be afraid. And now I told you this before it occurs, so that when it does occur you may believe.” Believe, my friends. Believe in God. Believe in Jesus. Believe in eternal life in Christ Jesus. Believe that Ashleigh is forever in God’s presence in heaven. Believe that one day, as we follow the way of Christ here on earth, we will be reunited with Ashleigh and all the believers who have gone before us. Jesus is with you. God loves you. We love you. We keep you in our prayers and hearts and thoughts. Pastor Denise and Jeff Arpino Isaiah and Sarah

“ A most beautiful Angel was given to us and taken away too soon, but I take comfort in knowing that she is where she needs to be, free from pain, and at peace. God chose to give her to us, what a miracle that was, but she was the true miracle. She showed courage, strength, compassion and most important love. She cherished every day she had, like it was always her last and never took anything for granted. We have so much to learn from her. I am so honored to have been a tiny part of her life and proud to have seen the young woman she became. When I look to the sky I will always think of her, watching over us, for she will always be the brightest star.

“ I cannot find the adequate words to express how I felt when I heard the news about Ashleigh. It is a very difficult time for the family and friends and the people that Ashleigh touched so deeply during her short time on earth. I extend my heartfelt sympathy for the loss of your beloved Ashleigh. I did not realize that 19 of her 21 years was spent undergoing treatment. She had courage and strength that is beyond human comprehension and a loving family that did everything humanly possible to make her dreams come true. I am sure that she is a lovely angel in heaven, smiling down at us and dancing around happily on the fluffy clouds.

“ Bill & Traci, My heart goes out to you and your family. Ashleigh is an amazing girl and a true blessing in our lives. As was said repeatedly over the past week you'd never meet a more inspiring selfless person. I was truly touched to see how many she has inspired and touch in some way or another. I know we didn't get to see her often but when we did you just knew that there was somethin special. I remember one time Bill you were home for the weekend and Ash took it upon herself to just come up to mom and dad's to visit all on her own. I came down the steps to see my dad pulled up on a barstool from the dining room with a beer sitting by the dividers in the living room and Ash sitting there on the couch just gabbing away to him. She got up and gave me a big hug and I was suprised because it'd been awhile since I seen her and it caught me off guard but it was awesome. She stayed about an hour just bullshiting to Uncle Butch. I remeber then later that day I was leaving the house and he stopped me. He said to me "I'm really glad she came up here to visit. I really enjoyed talking to her, I really did." and then he said to me "Ya know what you'll never meet a more kind, intelligent, & beautiful pretty little lady." She just sure knew how to grab you by the heart and mine goes out to you with love brother. With Love, Brooke

“ Ashleigh was the most inspiring, beautiful, caring, loving, fun-spirited person I have ever met. She could be having an absolutely terrible day, but she wouldn't complain; instead she would ask you how your day was going and try to help you solve your daily troubles instead of "bothering" you with hers. Although we lived more than 6 hours apart from each other, I still consider Ash one of my best friends. Through emails, texts, and phone calls we kept in touch and made sure that we each knew that our family was the strongest there was and that nothing could tear us apart. From making plans on meeting a lot of cute guys to sharing and apartment one day we talked about it all. On Ash's birthday she received many lottery tickets. While Kyleigh was begging to scratch them, Ashleigh gave us each one stating that she didn't care about the money, she had a million dollar family and that was enough for her. Every time I think of Ashleigh I can still see her amazing smile and hear her saying "Awe honey, I lovee you!". Well Ash, I love you too. I'm going to miss you so much, but I know God has a plan for you. I feel a lot safer knowing that I have you as a Guardian Angel

“ Today we are here to celebrate the life of Ashleigh Christina Wainwright. There are no words or expression to say how we are feeling about the loss of our daughter, grand daughter a sister, niece, cousin, a best friend. Ashleigh has given us all so many great memories, times with laughter and even when we shared a tear or two. We will cherish these memories today, tomorrow and forever. As I look thru old photos with tears in my eyes, it brought back old memories. I had forgotten how much time Ashleigh and Amanda spent together. Ashleigh would come to the house and play with Amanda. Pushing Amanda around the house in a shopping cart, playing with the pretend kitchen, coloring, playing games. When Ashleigh was at the house she would ask “Aunt Tami is there anything I can do for you?” Ashleigh liked being a helper. The trips we took to the zoo and Fort Ricky, putting on the girls’ make-up for dance recitals, giving them there wings. Uncle Gary and Aunt T-T taking Ashleigh and Amanda on camping trips, going to Niagara Falls and amusement parks. The girls had some great times together. While Ashleigh was in grade school, Ashleigh and her cousins, Amanda, Torrie and Christopher all went to the same baby sitters. They saw their big cousin everyday. Our memories we have are priceless. Ashleigh was a bright, beautiful young woman at 21, with maturity and wisdom beyond her years. Ashleigh liked and was comfortable with who she was. Ashleigh always made everyone feel comfortable around her. It didn’t matter who you were, how old you were, or even if you were meeting for the 1st time. Ashleigh made you feel as if you had known each other for a long time. Always looking to give and receive a hug to and from everyone. Ashleigh valued the people she has met along the way. Ashleigh especially liked helping kids with a serious illness. Giving them hope and courage to fight the illness. One time Ashleigh and a friend helped raise money so that a child with an illness could go to Disney. You never heard Ashleigh complain about her life or say why me, despite all the surgeries, tests and chemo treatments that she had been thru. I was always amazed at how quickly she bounced back. Especially the time in North Carolina, when she had the incision from one side of her body to the other, the doctors said she would not dance again, they didn’t know who they were talking to. The strong will, determination, passion and energy Ashleigh had for dance there was nothing that could keep her from dancing. Ashleigh said “I will dance again” and she did. In a short period of time Ashleigh was back home and dancing. The doctors were amazed. Ashleigh had a fighting sprit and never gave up Ashleigh was all about living life to the fullest and never giving up on her dreams. “Hope, dream big, laugh often, inspire all, love all” Thank you Ashleigh for the extra time you have given us to spend with you, we will cherish all our visits. Ashleigh you were always so brave and strong in front of all of us even when you were in so much pain. It would break my heart see you in so much pain. I wish I could have taken it all away. When we would visit, you would always talk to Amanda and Torrie just like any other day. You would asked them what was new, what they were doing in school, talked about Zummie and Pac Sun clothes, we talked about where all your bracelets came from. You would ask Amanda and Torrie to come sit on the bed so they could show you their bracelets and share where they came from. While you were looking at Amanda’s bracelets there was this one that was originally cream color, but no longer that color, you picked it up with 2 fingers and told Amanda you thought you might catch a disease or something from it or that she might. And she should cut it off and throw it away, it was time for a new bracelet. Oh did we laugh. You told us about you're cruise and how you were hypnotized. You thought you were a rock star playing the electric guitar with Eddie Van Halen, jamming out for everyone on the “ Traci, No words can express to you and your family how very sorry we are for the loss of your beautiful daughter. Ashlee was clearly one very special young lady and she will forever remain in the hearts of many people. We never had the opportunity to meet her but it is obvious that she was a very strong young woman and accomplished a great deal in her short life and will be forever missed. We will remember her as you said "the brightest star up in the sky"

“ Billy & Traci, There is no words that we can say to ease the pain. We want you to know how special Ashleigh was from the times you bought her to work at the reserve center, or to command picnics at Oneida Shores and when we saw her apple picking at Beak & Skiff and dancing at the Navy Ball, she always brighten our day with her beautiful smile. She faced many obstacles but she always looked at the bright side of things. For anyone who doesn't believe in angels we can prove them wrong because we met one and her name is Ashleigh. She has touched so many lives, thank you for sharing her with us.

“ To Ashleigh's Family, I saw this poem and I thought of you. May you find peace in knowing that she is no longer in pain, but instead sharing her special gift up in heaven now. She was and still is a truly amazing person who touched lives of people she never personally met (such as myself). May you all continue on each day knowing that she will be with you everyday and I'm sure she will be the brightest star shining in the sky. God has a master plan for Ashleigh that no one will ever understand but whatever that plan may be, she will conquer it and give it her all. The residents of heaven are so lucky to have gained such an amazing angel. Ashleigh, please watch over your Mom and Dad and Kyliegh and guide them through this difficult journey. You will all meet again one day and Ashleigh will show you the ropes up in heaven, as I'm sure she's already the most popular angel up there! It is with deepest sympathy I share this beautiful poem that I came across that seems as if it was written just for your amazing family. My Child Has Been Set Free Daughters hold a special bond That nothing can replace Their smiles can chase the blues away And brighten up a face. Joys we've known, a special day Shared between us two Secret talks and peaceful walks Just to name a few. Times of reminiscing The day you learned to crawl Looking through the photos I've always kept them all. But one sad day, we got the horrible news It tore my world in two The doctors have told us "There's nothing more we can do." The precious girl, I loved so much Was quickly leaving me So many things we might have known Will never come to be. Thoughts of her are everywhere I cannot let her go But somewhere up in heaven A star does brightly glow. She sees a Joy unknown to me Her face is full of Light They walk into the Promised Land God holds her hand so tight. Just as the shifting sands of time Flows gently out to sea Here today and gone tomorrow My child has been set free.

“ To the Wainwright family, My condolences to your family. Stay strong like I know you are! Your family are in my thghts and she will be missed...I enjoyed walking on 11 seeing miss kaleigh, Sam and a nurse hula hooping she kept the energy going up there. Stay strong sweety =) and walking into ashleigh's room to clean looking at all the pictures and things she had posted up on the walls. She would always wake up and tell me 'thank you' once I was finished and honestly that was something that made my day when I worked on that side of 11. “ Dear Traci & family, I don't know what to say or where to begin, but first I'd like to say how sorry I am for your loss of Ashleigh. She was the most sweetest young lady even if she was having a bad day. When she was dancing at United, all the dancers loved her & looked up to her for all her strength and beauty she had. Ashleigh was a very strong & determined girl and we share a lot of beautiful memories we had with her while dancing at United and Empire. She was loved by everyone. I don't know why God takes away someone so young & precious as Ashleigh who has suffered for 19 years...I ask WHY? I had a husband that died of the dreaded disease Cancer also when he was 35, but he only suffered for 2 1/2 years from the time he was diagnosed and I thought that was horrible. I look back at all the wonderful & happy times we all had with Ashleigh...mostly when she was dancing. It looked to me that she was dancing so lightly & beautifully on the clouds and now I know why....she was practicing! I am so proud to have met & known Ashleigh thru dance....she was a sweet and beautiful young lady. You as her mother coped with so much in Ashleighs young life, but she knew all that you tried to do for her, but when the Lord calls, we have no choice in the matter. All I can say is that Ashleigh no longer has the pain that she has endured for most of her life. She knew the love that everyone had for her and it was time for her to become that angel that she was here with us! May she rest in peace and continue to dance so beautifully amongst the clouds up in the sky. With sincere sympathy, prayers and love, Sandie Fukes (One of Ashleigh's former Dance Teachers!

“ I am so sorry to hear about Ashleigh. She was such a sweet and friendly person. I will always remember her coming to her ballet class in her tutu and her "I love ballet" shirts that she made. Or the time she came with the balloons and put them in her leotard just to get the teacher going. The best thing I remember was when she would come unprepared for ballet without her ballet slippers and the teacher would send her out to the basket of misfit shoes and she would sit and find any odd looking ones that didnt match and wear them back into class. Boy did she make watching her class interesting. I would look forward to seeing her come each week just to see what she would do next. She was quite the character! Rest in peace

“ Ashleigh was my student at Cazenovia College. She was spunky, energetic, outspoken and hard-working. I had such an affection for her! We often chatted outside of class, and I was always so struck by her cheerfulness and optimism. What a firecracker of a person! She is a treasure and I am so sorry we have lost her. “ Ashleigh, my beautiful daughter, my best freind, I sit here rubbing my forhead with tears in my eyes and breaking heart asking myself why, why my Ash, why my beautiful daughter, I never truely beleived this day would come, I would hear the words from the doctors say that its not good or there is nothing else that can be done and would get so mad, furious is a better way to explain it, I remember the last time we met with them and I had to walk out beacuse I was so afraid of loseing you and not knowing what to do, you walked out with me and made it all feel better saying daddy its ok, dont worry, I will be ok, I love you, you truely have a gift that is special that you have shared with everone you came in contact with or just by word of mouth hearing about you. Just recently while we were together, you told me thank you for raising you and makeing you into the person you are, It is me that is thanking you for that blessing and time we had and will have again, and I am so blessed to have you as my daughter and will always have, in this lifetime and in the next because we were meant to be together as a family. I sit here still crying and I can feel your warmth and soothing words and it helps because I am a Proud Proud Father, and you know how proud I am of you, I have told you so many times how proud we are of you, I know you have been taken from me for a higher, greater purpose, I know this but it doesnt make it any easier and never will, but I take solice in knowing that you are helping others in need of your special touch and warm heart, I am already seeing you at work honey, once again a proud father you have made me feel. I will never truely be able to describe in words my love for you and you know this, when I tried to explain it to you, you would always say I know dad, I feel that way to. You have always had the gift of being able to feel me whenever we were not together and me you, I feel you now baby doll, I feel you now. You will always be my litle girl, Daddys Girl. You know where we will talk, up on the hill, out back, where you so loved to sit and just watch, I will be there for you and I know you will be there for me. We will be together again honey, someday when the time is right, we will be together again. I will look into the heavens everynight and see the Angel you were destined to become flying among the stars wathing over all that you love. I LOVE YOU HONEY, I LOVE YOU WITH ALL MY HEART AND SOUL WITH EVERY FIBRE OF MY BEING. Thank you for being my best friend, my partner in crime, my everything, MY DAUGHTER. Love forever Daddy

“ HM1- My most favorite corpsman over many years! I am so saddened by your loss and the longer road ahead. It has been a long time since I have rounded the corner and seen you hard at work so that your girls could want for nothing. You gave it all for them and I know that you will continue to do so. My thoughts are with you this day and many days as I work with the wounded here and remember the things you said in passing about working with the marines and the wounded. You have helped me immensely without even knowing it. I hope you can find that same courage to get through what you think will be and probably will be the worst year of your life. Just know that there are so many of us in your Navy family who would drop everything to just listen to you vent and grieve. I wish I could be there in person, but just know that I am with you in a corner of your heart and brain. Feel free to get ahold of me anytime. “ Ash, You were the one that taught me to be me. This all doesn't seem real to me, it feels like just yesterday we were in the backroom at Journeys trying to figure out what we were going to wear out. Making ourselves look pretty with the glitter and make-up.(oh yeah don't forget our shoes). The nights we would relax up at the windmills and look at the stars will always and forever be mine and yours. Now you will be the biggest, brightest, most beautiful star there is. I love you more than words can express my sister, bestfriend, and soul mate, Ashleigh. The family, I am very sorry for all the pain that you are going through, just remember she is always near us no matter where we are and what we are doing. My heart is with you guys. Bill, You are Ashleigh's hero. I will never forget the countdown til you came home. She was so proud to call you her dad. She couldn't wait to introduce you to me. I now know where Ashleigh got most of her characteristics from. Be strong like you have always been.

“ ASH Here I also stole one of your Favorite Quotes: "I believe God has a master plan. He moves people in and out of each others lives and each leaves his mark on the other. You find you are made up of bits and pieces of ALL who ever touched your life, and you are more because of it and you would be less if they had not touched you" Its amazing that know matter what you always had a hug for us even at times when I didn't think you had it in you! I always tried to make you laugh and smile and always Pick on you time to time for fun! But you got the last teasing on Xmas touching my stomach asking if I was going to have twins! THANKS LOL! I am so glad you kept your sense of humor through all of this, ex. Video Taping your DAD snoring! I love the time you "BORROWED" your dads truck and marked the driveway so the truck would be in the exact same spot when you returned it! IT WORK GREAT EXCEPT You forgot to put the seat back from being 6 inches from the steering wheel! OOOPS! NOW THAT WAS FUNNY! I miss YOU, But I know that you will be with Kristina, Grandma Davis, and Grandma and Grandpa Manzano and here we sit all in Tears and sadness and you are having a great reunion! But you have your work cut out for you!! You have alot of people to watch over, especially Kyleigh!!! SO get to work, we seen some of your work allready! I will do my best to keep my promise to you!! “ Bill, Traci, Kyleigh; Our hearts go out to you and your families. I just want to tell you both that I am truly sorry that I did not hold up my bargain on visiting, it was just so hard to return to a place that I spent 6 months, well you know the rest. I am crying as I write. We love you all and you have made a place not only in our hearts but in our family forever. If it wasn't for meeting you I truly do not know how I could have made it thru the last moments I had spent with our daughter Tristyn. I still remember the first time we ever met Ashleigh, it was a spunky day of Tristyn's when she had her few choice words for her grandma, what a great first impression, but that didn't stop the girls. From the beginning our girls shared that special magic that only the two of them knew, no matter the age difference that didn't matter, it was the fact that only they truly knew what they were facing everyday of their lives. Ashleigh was a true Hero in our eyes, she fought her heart out and never gave up no matter what the test, meds, or what the news was that day. She fought for what she wanted and that was to turn 21, have Christmas and New Years with her family. We did only have a short time of memories to make with Ashleigh and you both, but those memories will last a life time. Ashleigh has begun her journey to becoming one of God's Angels, a star in the evening sky. I am hoping that she will find a place next to Tristyn's so that I can look out and see them being the brightest stars out there. Tristyn and Ashleigh have once met again in heaven, where memories made can once be shared again. A lesson learned from the girls is love your children a little more, and realize how precious each and every moment spent with them counts. God had a plan for those two girls, which I have not come to figure out yet. But for us as parents and for those parents out there is to hug your child tighter and tell them how much you love that, no matter what they do. That truly is a lesson I learned from my dealing with cancer and my four year old daughter. I thank them both, for teaching me just to live life to the fullest cause you never know what life may bring you. Remember that you and your family will always have a special place in our families hearts. We love you Ashleigh and are truly and Angel in our eyes. Please watch over our Tristyn for us. I know she knows you are there with her. With love Allen, Courtney, Skyler, and our Angel Tristyn

“ Ashleigh, Our dear little "Lightning Bug". You have given all of us so much. You will always be in our hearts. Thank you for all the joy and love you have given us. How proud we are of the young woman you became. The times we watched you dancing, especially in that beautiful blue dress. At high school graduation with that standing ovation. How determined you were to attend college and how dedicated you were at work. But most of all how inspiring it was at the hospital and how you helped all those children when you also had so much to cope with. God is very lucky to have you at his side. Always, Ashleigh, we will hold you close and have you in our hearts and thoughts. You are our Angel in Heaven who has taught everyone what true strength, courage and bravery are. “ Bill, Traci and Kyleigh-- I'm so sorry to hear of Ashleigh's passing. What a long and hard struggle you have all endured. The video was absolutely wonderful, as I hadn't had the opportunity to see Ashleigh since she was a very little girl. What a stylish young woman she became. No doubt you are very proud. “ Dear Traci and Bill, sorry that I am writing this email rather than addressing you in person. Irene told me of Ashleigh's passing on Saturday. All I can say is that my sympathies and concerns are with you both as well as your family. Unfortunately, I must leave Syracuse Tuesday afternoon for the remainder of the week and will be unable to attend the calling hours and the funeral. However, my thoughts will be with you both during that trying time. No matter how expected, Ashleigh's passing was truly an untimely occurrence. I recall the vivacious, feisty young woman I came to know years ago, bound and determined to keep working, keep up with her friends, and live as normal a life as possible in the bosom of her family. Once again, my thoughts and prayers are with you. Fondly, Frank Vogel

“ How can I love someone so much that I have never met? To Doc and Traci, it has been an honor to quietly walk along side you in this journey. Through "the twins" I was forever connected to your family. I just wanted you to know how Ashleigh's impact reaches even to those who never even physically met her. She is an amazing story of strength, grace and inspiration! I am forever changed and I thank you! I thank God that I will get to meet her someday! All of our futures are bright in Him! Heather slipped a Live*Cherish*Faith bracelet on my wrist a while back and when I went to take it off on Saturday, I couldn't. I will wear it as a testimony to a life that was not lived in vain! “ To my dearest Ashleigh, it seems like just yesterday that we met. It feels like yesterday that we were dancing around the house getting dressed up to go out. It feels like we have known each other forever. It doesnt, however, feel like you are gone. I know you are with us each and every day. When the wind blows, you are laughing, when the sun shines, you are sparkling and smiling, when it rains or snows, you are crying tears of joy because someone you love did something to make you proud. We all feel you everyday because we know you are never gone. You are a beautiful woman inside and out and to all those in heaven, they are lucky to have you with them. I thank you for letting me be a lucky person to get to know you and letting me be a part of your life. thank you for always being there for me in my most difficult time and for being there for me during my greatest times. we will share those forever. Thank you for giving me the courage and the strength to dance. I have always admired you, for your strength, your love and ambition and for being my hero. I love you Ash. i think of you everyday and i will have you in my heart always. You left the footprints in my heart and now i know, "it is then that you will carry me" when i no longer see your footprints next to mine in the sand. I cant wait to meet again someday. Ill see you in the future. I love you much. to every dance that i dance, Im dancing for you, my best friend, and my soul mate, Ashleigh C. Wainwright. To the family: Im very sorry for your loss. But we all know she isnt in pain anymore. She is with us everyday. i love you all and thank you for giving us the greatest gift of life while we had her, Ashleigh. love you all...

“ Kyleigh, I wanted to try to comfort you with trying to say what Ashleigh would want you to know: TO MY SISTER, FROM HEAVEN I just wanted you to know that I'll be with you wherever you go. I've gotten my wings and learned how to fly. And I'll dry your tears whenever you cry. Though I've went away and it seems we're apart, you will forever be my soul and my heart. The love that we shared will not go astray, for deep in my heart it will always stay. You held me close when I was filled with pain and your smile gave me sunshine when my life filled with rain. We've shared so much that mere words can't express how knowing you has made me feel truly blessed. So please dear sister, don't worry, my soul is truly free. So think of me often, as much as you can and I'll always be there to hold your hand. I'll be your angel and guide you through life and give you comfort throughout your long life. So thanks dear sister again and again, thank you always for being my sister and my friend. I'll love you forever!!!! Your Sister Forever ASHLEIGH

“Dear Ash, I can't put into words how saddened I feel that you are no longer here with us, I find myself thinking about you, and asking why? Why would something this terrible happen to someone who is a kind, caring, passionate and loving person?? Why?? Through all the struggles you faced at the hospital, I never once seen you complain, you were always smiling and thinking of all others before yourself. You are the bravest person I know, always positive, always uplifting, an inspiration to all who know you, from friends and family to the wonderful staff at upstate and others in the hospital, I am proud to say that you were my niece. I witness the effect you had on the other patients of 11G, you were a big sister to them all and they all looked up to you. You became there guiding light, you would helped so many others overcome there fears and pains before helping yourself. You were there beacon of hope.. so brave.., so strong... Hugs and kisses, you're in my heart, "Yesterday is history, Tomorrow is a mystery, and today.. well today is just a gift" Love You... Uncle Buster

“ Billy, I have known you for quite sometime and I remember talking with you at work about Ashleigh. I know how much she meant to you and can't imagine the pain you all are feeling right now. My heart goes out to your wife and daughter as well. Ashleigh was always your little angel now she will shine bright in heaven for you. She will watch over you all and especially Kayleigh. I remember after an operation she was dancing in the parking lot of the Home Depot and when she came to the Crunch game w/Steven and I. She was soo sweet! Then we made Christmas cookies and she was so proud to bring them home. I won't tell you about the mess we made w/all the cut outs and the frosting!!! She had a blast. I am so happy I was able to know such a wonderful, strong little girl and then young lady. I will always remember seeing her in the hospital! She was so strong and proud of what you all did in her room.. The lights, Christmas tree, pictures, etc. She loved it! It was her home away from home and now heaven is her home. She is pain free and so blessed to have you all as her family! God Bless you.. Love you lots Ashleigh.. May you now rest in Comfort and Peace. You said a prayer for my little sister who was having cancer surgery one day I was w/you.. Thank you she is doing better.. You already proved to me your an Angel! Shine Bright!!!

“ Bill, Traci and Kyleigh, Words cannot express how sorry I am for your loss. It is a tremendous loss to everyone who knew her. I met Ashleigh 6 years ago when she was in town visiting family and Josh introduced me to his cousin. I couldn't believe without even knowing me how warm and kind she was to me. She made me feel like I had known her all my life. I have never met someone so genuine and sincere. She is absolutely the strongest, most selfless person I have ever met. I feel honored that I was given the opportunity to know such a special person.

“ *Hey Ashy-Pash! It's a shame there aren't words that could describe what you've meant to me in my life. For the two years I knew you, you were always teaching me, caring for me, and helping me grow. That beautiful smile could light up the darkest room. Its been said that the most radiant flowers fade the fastest, and though this holds true with you, the memory of that blossom will carry on in the hearts and minds of everyone who was lucky enough to know you. You were a shooting star. You lit up the sky, all the while burning brightly so everyone could see you shine. Your love and grace will always be a reminder to me of how beautiful this life can be. “ Traci, Bill, and Kyleigh, My heart goes out to you. Ashleigh is a wonderful young lady, she has a way of always putting others first. No matter how bad she felt she always complimented Kyleigh and gave her loving and encouraging words. I'll remember her love for the little ones like Khymiah, who made Ashleigh smile. She always asked how are the kids and how I am doing, not one to complain about how she was feeling. I consider myself fortunate for having met and taken care of such a beautiful, loving, kind, compassionate young lady. I pray that God will comfort and carry you through this time. “ *Ashleigh, My daughter, my love. My heart is so heavy right now. I can't believe it it true. I wait to hear your truck come pulling in, the rummaging of the bags (No you weren't shopping), your beautiful style (this old thing, it's not new), your smile, kind heart. I wish I had half your strength. You never complained when you had to drink all that contrast, another appointment another treatment. Then the news. Seemed nothing ever worked and the scan were never what we wanted to hear. I would sit and cry. You would comfort me and say it was going to be alright. You were my rock. Your courage, bravery, strength, love, kindness and determination. Nothing would keep you from dance class, competitions or work. You did everything with nothing but the most. You danced with your heart and shared it with others. You loved and cared for everyone. The kids of 5C and 7H/11G the most. Mira, Andrew, Tristyn, Sam, Will, Tuleen, Amber, Jesse, Taylor and many many more. You showed your kindness to everyone Shanika, Bernie, Evelyn and "Dred". No matter there job, everyone is special and you made them all feel it. You fought so long and so hard. Never giving up. You told me on Wednesday you weren't afraid. You knew you would be going to heaven and it was beautiful. It was time. I cried. How could you be so brave? Again caring about other. I loved the way people loved you. It was not me, it was just you being you. You have a way of bringing out the best in others. Not an unkind or selfish bone in your body. I am so very proud to have you as my daughter. I am so very proud of the women that you have grown up to be. I can't say I'm sorry for the the things I could not change because you said so. All I do know is that I love love love you with every inch of my being! I miss you so very much! I am thankful for you fianlly having peace and for the pain and suffering to finally end. Even with the pain you would say "I'm helping someone else". Only you! I could go on and on. But, we will have our time together each night as I hold your kitty tight and look out unto the stars. I will see you shining brightly. I feel your presence at work already. LOVE YOU and MISS YOU!!! All my love and hugs and kisses, Mom P.S. Have fun in heaven with Mira, Andrew and our Tristyn. “ Traci, Bill & Kyleigh, I have never met a more wonderful, amazing and strong person besides Ashleigh. I am so thankful that I was a part of her life. She was more than just my best friend, she was my sister, my partner in crime, someone that helped me through my roughest times in life. Even though she has only been gone a day, she is already sending me signs that she is still around. We made so many memories together, and I'm so sad to see her go. But Ash and I always agreed that we would never say goodbye to each other, only a " See you later" because she was always right, we will all see her again someday in the heavens above. She's flying with the angels, and just remember that whenever you look up into the sky, she is the brightest one up there, shining to tell us all that she's still here.
