“ I am sorry to hear of your family's loss of your loved one Charles. John 5:28, 29 explains "all those in the memorial tombs will hear his voice and come out, those who did good things to a resurrection of life". Just as Jesus called out Lazarus in bringing him back to life, your family has the bright prospect of welcoming back your Charles. Isaiah 25:8 states of our heavenly Father, "He will actually swallow up death forever, and the Sovereign Lord Jehovah will certainly wipe the tears from all faces." Sincerely, Quanah

“ Although I haven't seen Charlie in years , I remember his voice like it was yesterday. The way he said certain words , now silenced will remain in memory for all times. He left behind a wonderful legacy in his sons. Bless you Kevin and Paula and girls. You all have a special Angel watching over you now. May his laughter live in your hearts and rise above the loss you feel. The heart like the mind has a memory, and in it is kept our most precious keepsakes.

“ I am going to miss a great guy who really made a big impact on everyone who knew him. Chuck was kind, giving, and love to see all his grandchildren have a great time. He loved to putter, spend time at camp and to drink his occasional "weak tea". He will leave a small hole in my heart. The world is definitely less of a friendly place without him. Good luck Chuck and keep an eye on all of us down here.

“ Chuck was a great guy and wonderful man to talk to. He loved his camp at Black Lake and enjoyed having his family and friends there. We are blessed to have known him and had him in our family. We are saddened by his demise. Rest in peace Chuck.
