“ Sorry about being so late to this, but I thought it was worth saying... my grandmother knew Chris, she was in some kind of class where they drew artwork and made ceramics and then painted them.

We have a house, or should I say yard, filled with ceramic figurines growing up at my parents house in Liverpool New York. My grandmother unfortunately passed away along time ago I think around the same time. I thought I would let you guys know if you're interested, I have a few pieces of art from Chris, still hanging up on our walls to this day. There are different scenes of the seasons, there are large paintings, the size of a movie poster, and also a few ceramic plates that were made. I'm guessing she made them because her signature is on all of them. I tried to look her up to see if anyone else was selling any paintings or what they were worth, but I can't find anything On any of them. When I asked my mother, she let me know who you are, artist was, and where they came from.

If you would like to see some pictures of the artwork, just let me know, and I can send them to you.

“ Dear Rothrum Family, I am former waitress that "Chris" would visit at 'The By The Way Restaurant" in Elbridge. I would call her Edna and she would correct me, "My friends call me 'Chris' she would say. She was so kind and genuine, the kind of customer you do not forget. She usually sat at the counter and if I was not too busy we could talk about daily things. She will be missed. I am sorry for your loss. Darcy Barber
