“ Evelyn sat with my dad while I was at work in 1984 and 1985. She came in the afternoon and relieved a woman who was with him in the morning. I just loved her because she always had a smile and a nice thing to say about the time with him. It was a very stressful time in my life and she made things a little easier for me. She was a great lady and I felt at ease with her right from the beginning. I think of her often.
