“ How does one listen to a mother's heart, or feel an angels breathe. There truly are no words that can capture all the love Margaret had for her family & friends. She tried hard to keep her family together even though she knew growing up she could not provide all the extras for them. She truly loved her Irish Songbirds, those concerts gave her so much to look forward to. Those times she actually followed the doctors orders. She relished any events having to do with her children or their children---she truly wanted to feel that no one was embarassed by her being there. I loved both Mom and Daniel, we laughed, we cried, heck we even had some great adventures. She used her faith to carry on through most of her pain and problems and surely bringing her right to the gates of Heaven. Dan has found something to make her a throne out of before she arrived. May we all adopt the twinkle Mom got in her eyes when she was happy to see you, that was love. In Dan, Richard and Margaret we were blessed by their being in our lifes--may they be blessed by peace, comfort together.

“ To my chemo "buddy's" family. Maggie was more to me than just a chemo buddy. I loved her as a friend. I felt God's hand at work in the short amount of time that we communicated with each other. My heart felt love to each of you.
