There are many of us who going to miss you so much I don't even know where to start, me being one of them. The little arguments between you and Kevin, the bickering between you and Charlie Blair. I don't even know where to take this. And how you use to call Christine Farrah. Boy I wish I could bring all those days back. But life those go on with or without you. “ Dick was a great friend to me and my late husband Dell Caraway. We knew Dick and Caryl since 1962. Now I will miss both of them more than words can say. Even in his later years he showed a strength to me that is to be admired. After smoking for many of his 86 years he proudly quit, making sure all knew of this relatively recent accomplishment. The Silver Fox, as some close friends called him had his own rebuttals. He would call Dell older than me and Dell would return the compliment with the same zeal saying "no older than I" ... They enjoyed playing golf together and we shared many fond memories over the years at dinner. I appreciated the hand of sympathy he offered me when Dell passed and I hope that I gave him the same in return. He is truly a person that will be missed by all and I am in the front of this line...

“ We will miss Dick here at BBL. I used to love to watch him kid around with our receptionist Julie. He was a kind hearted man who could always get us to laugh. He and Joe from Hertz were like vaudeville comedians with jokes and one-liners. I believe Hertz was our company's car rental source because of Dick and Joe. Our sympathy to his family for he was a great guy and will be missed.

“Big Dick” will be remembered by me as a fixture at Hertz, Syracuse. I still use a Parker ballpoint pen he gave to me from a new Lincoln Town car in 1992. Although I used to pick on him a lot, especially about his heavy smoking and not inhaling, he would continue to do favors for me like mailing my checks when I didn't show up for a while. He was truly the "CEO of Transporters".

“ I worked with Dick for 16 years at Hertz. He was a good friend. We frequently kidded each other about who was "No.1" and who was "No.2". He was a gentleman and I will miss him.
