“ Bob used to speak to my class every year about his experiences during and after World War 2. He made the era come alive for my students, and it ranked as one of their more memorable experiences every year I would ask my class to think back on their experiences. He was funny, he was giving of his time without reservation, and I will sorely miss him. I send my prayers to the entire family.

“ I had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Doyle the very first day my mom entered Iroquois Nursing Home--they sat at the same table for a little bit and my mom used to salute him for his service in WW II, which he was so proud of, and rightfully so. While I didn't know Mr. Doyle all that well, it was so obvious he was a sweet, caring person with a loving family. I would like to send my sincere condolences to the Doyle family; may your dad rest in peace.

I first met Uncle Bob at his wedding to Aunt Bobbe and I was nine years old. What a wonderful wedding that was, and what a wonderful life Bob had. I will remember him as cheerful and smiling, always making a little joke, so pleasant to be with. I know the family will miss him, but be comforted by knowing he was surrounded by love and has gone right to Heaven.

Bob lived a life in service to others. I particularly remember the letters from school children that he would bring to our Retiree Council Meetings. They showed how well he had taught the students about WW II when he visited their classrooms.

A gentle man, proud patriot and loved to share his jokes at council meetings. What a wonderful gift he gave to students as he shared his history of WWII . My sincere condolences to the family.
