“ For those who still check the memory portion to read others' memories, I never shared my fondest memory of my Aunt. It is a very general one, because it didn't happen just once - it was when she saw me, when she saw me crying at any point, & always when we parted. She would walk up to me, wrap her arms around my neck, & hug me like someone who loves you would. I remember her head resting on my shoulders & always thinking how great her hair stuff smelled (something I am now picky about in result of these hugs.) She would rock me from side-to-side & always say, "I love you, baby girl" or "it will be okay, baby" & as always - it was all I needed.

If I could get one chance to relive any moment with you, Shawna Danielle, it would be to get one of those hugs you were famous for & to hear you once more.

“ I'm so very sad about this. Shawna was at my house as a little girl - she was a friend of my daughter Jasmin. She was the sweetest little girl with brown hair and big brown eyes. I've thought of her often and wondered how her life had turned out after she moved from Elbridge. It sounds like she accomplished a lot in her short time here on earth. Rest in Peace Shawna. I hope you knew how much you were loved by so many, as shown by the outpouring of sadness.

“ I remember when Shawna and I were kids meeting up at the Cayuga County Fair for the all day ride pass. We were bound and determined to prove that we were stronger than any astronaut or jet fighter pilot out there. So we proceeded to subject ourselves to more G forces in a day than any one human needs in a lifetime. I still remember the count now because we were so proud. We successfully ran The Gravitron spaceship 35 times, and The Zipper 35 times, with a handful of Pirate Ship rides thrown in between.

Against better judgement I ate some pizza and a red slushy as it was getting dark, and then begged for one last ride before we had to go. Well it was that one last Zipper ride that proved Shawna was a better astronaut than me, as I proceeded to empty the contents of my stomach all over us and everyone below. I never felt so terrible, ruining a days fun.

Some day we'll ride again Shawna, I'll work on fortifying my stomach until then.

Jeremy Smith - January 20, 2016 at 08:07 PM

Ahhh I heard that story a couple of times. It was a fond memory of hers. And she never lost that love for unbearable G forces. I got dragged onto a lot of intense rides at six flags.
